IN THE WORD

*What has been is what will be, and what has been done is what will be done; there is nothing new under the sun. Can one say about anything, "Look, this is new"? It has already existed in the ages before us. There is no remembrance of those who came before; and of those who will come after there will also be no remembrance by those who follow them. Ecclesiastes 1:9-11

Evil. The world is full of it. We see it in our daily lives and hear about it on the news. We may be tempted to think things are worse now than ever but are they? Not according to scripture. Don't believe me? Go back and read the Bible and see for yourself. There are horrible things that have been going on for thousands of years. The one thing that caused evil throughout the Bible and continues to cause evil today is sin, and as long as there are humans infected with sin, there will always be horrible acts committed. There really is nothing new under the sun. You may be saying "They didn't have cars, smartphones, etc. way back then, those are new." but to view the verse that way is missing the intent of what the author is saying. While our technologies may change, the sin nature that causes hatred and violence will always be the driving force that keeps evil running rampant in this world. For that reason we strive for something better than this world. We are not looking for something new, we are seeking One who is eternal. One who has always been and will always be. One who was before sin and will be after sin. The One we should be looking to is Jesus Christ, the one who conquered sin. The One who can free us from this life of sin and make us a new creation in Him. The author of Ecclesiastes puts into perspective for us the fact that we all live this life for a while, only to lose all we accumulate and be forgotten by those who come after us. This world offers us only what is temporary, but Jesus wants to offer you something that is eternal. Jesus offers you forgiveness of your sins and promises you an eternity better than anything this world has to offer. Have you made Jesus your Lord and asked for that forgiveness?
